

Keeping the Lights on During COVID-19

As your electricity distributor, we're taking steps to ensure our customers have a reliable and safe electricity supply during the COVID-19 pandemic.

For our customers across Melbourne's north-west, we are working to minimise planned outages and are only performing essential work to maintain the reliability of our network.

We will also be contacting our customers before planned outages to explain why the work is proceeding and to hear from our customers.
